Present
The 1952
Embers

WE, the class of 1952, are proud to present our "Embers" built upon the theme of "Knighthood."

As we journey through life, the Castle of Camelot appears and disappears before our eyes just as it did in the days of the armor-clad knights. The castle, of course, is our goal toward which we are constantly striving.

When we first entered school, we were like the young pages who served the King. In ninth grade we became heralds; in tenth and eleventh grades, squires; and in twelfth grade, knights. Through the years, we have increased our knowledge to the extent where we can now take the oath of Knighthood just as the young pages dreamed of doing as they became older and more versed in the ideals of Knighthood.

"Live pure, speak true, right wrong, and follow the King" were the ideals of every Knight and truth, loyalty, and virtue inspired them to unselfishness and heroism. Naturally, we do not intend to go forth into the world clad in armor and riding a fiery steed. However, we all have the ability to gird ourselves with those virtues which are essential to carrying out the standards required of a Knight.

Also, it is true that we cannot follow the King, in the same sense implied in the rules of Knighthood, but we can and should follow God, who is really our King. For it is through him and him only that we can fulfill the required essentials of a Knight and finally attain our goal.

Therefore, as we leave our beloved school, we fix our eyes steadfastly ahead toward the Castle of Camelot knowing that our "King" will remain constantly at our side to lead us to the ways of purer living, truer speaking and every other characteristic required of us--the future "Knights" of the "King."

"The old order changeth, yielding place to new,
And God fulfills himself in many ways;
Lest one good custom should corrupt the world."

"The Idylls of the King"
Alfred Tennyson

Foreword

Samuel D'Antonino

TO you, Mr. D'Antonino, we of the Senior Class dedicate our 1952 "Embers." As the Knights of Old patterned themselves after Sir Galahad, the Prince of Knights, so the members of the Senior Class look to you. During your four years at Eden Central School you have proved as good a friend and teacher as one ever will find. Your sound advice concerning our many problems and your willing assistance is greatly appreciated and will always be remembered.

WHEN it first came to my attention that Knighthood was to be the theme of the 1952 "Embers," I felt that this was an anachronism. However there are certain parallels we can draw from this illustration to fit modern living.

To be sure, you will not be called upon to ride a fiery steed to battle some fierce dragon or to defend some fair lady, but there are battles to be fought of much more far-reaching importance. Many people throughout the world are either turning to Communism or becoming very reactionary and intolerant of any way of life that does not exactly coincide with theirs. There are too few people who are standing up for the principles of truth, integrity and justice toward all mankind. Herein lies a challenge that would have called forth all the daring the bravest knight could have mustered. I hope the Class of 1952 will be equal to this challenge, and I wish to congratulate them on their fine annual.

Edwin C. Peck

Donald J. Anderson
ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL

Miss Jackson and Mr. Anderson

Miss C. Jackson
MR. ANDERSON, as assistant principal of our school and supervisor of the first six grades, has numerous duties and responsibilities. With the assistance of his very efficient secretary, Miss Jackson, he takes charge of the attendance records, the approving of excuses, the granting of passes, and the keeping of registers. Another of his numerous duties is the supervision of the school bus system: the daily buses, the buses for games, the buses for field trips, and special buses for the annual picnics sponsored by every class every year. In all cases, he stresses safety rules and regulations for all who ride or drive any of our buses. Having a genuine interest in the welfare of the school and the children, Mr. Anderson has proved himself to be a real friend to the high school students and to the teachers and students of those grades over which he has supervision.

As a true knight guided and trained the little pages at each step of their progress to the grade of herald, so does Mr. Anderson, with elastic patience, help the little ones to respect truth, to understand the rights of others, and to be ready to help a worthy cause.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Doris B Smith

Mrs. Smith, at her daily work in the Board Room.

THE unselfish, voluntary services of the Board of Education make our school the smoothly functioning organization it is. This group of individuals is responsible for the many advantages we are able to enjoy. Through them we are provided with the most capable teachers and staff, the finest books, and essential modern equipment. Their generosity and their interest in our welfare have enabled us to have social hours, assemblies, spectator buses to the games, and our own student government.

In providing for us the best means of obtaining a good education, these sagacious knights and ladies have placed in our hands King Arthur's mighty sword, Excalibur, with which we may conquer the evils of the world.

We seniors, especially, are grateful for permission to take our delightful Easter trip to Washington. To these people, therefore, go the thanks of every Eden Central School Student.

PARENT-TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

Eden Central
EACH month throughout the school year, our parents and our teachers meet to plan and work for our welfare and the good of Eden Central School. This year, under the leadership of Mr. Alexander Wysocki, the Eden Parent-Teacher Association has again achieved its goals, and has succeeded in establishing a closer relationship among all who are concerned with our education.

Together, they studied our Language Arts and Social Studies program, our Promotional policy, the question of Television and Education, and the Regent's Examinations. At the holiday season, the annual Christmas party brought the spirit of the season to all who attended, and twice during the year

FACULTY

THE future of the young pages of the elementary grades depends to a great extent on the instruction they receive during their early school years. This court of gentle knights and ladies, under the guidance of Mr. Anderson, has spent many hours in studying new ways of teaching gracious manners and good reading habits to the little pages.

The elementary school faculty has done a commendable job in building a firm foundation that will see these future "Knights" through the Junior and Senior High. Not only do these teachers spend numerous hours each day with their young charges, but they unselfishly devote their after-school hours to conferences with the parents of their students in order to familiarize them with their children's problems and progress.

First row: Miss Horton, first grade; Mrs. Ingalls, second grade. Second row: Mrs. Gerrie, Kindergarten; Mrs. Wischerath, second grade. Third row: Mrs. Davidson, Kindergarten; Miss Wrench, first grade. Fourth row: Miss Ess, first grade; Miss Boardman, fourth grade. Fifth row: Miss Hognacki, third grade; Miss MacIntye, second grade; Mrs. Gallagher, second grade; Mrs. Blakely, third grade; Miss Wilson, fourth grade; Mrs. Hauth, fifth grade; Mrs. Wilson, fifth grade; Miss Saunders, sixth grade; Mrs. Rothe, third grade; Miss Poniowski, third grade; Mrs. Morgester, first grade; Mrs. Gould, sixth grade. Sixth row: Mr. Martynowski, fourth grade; Mr. Shepard, special class; Mr. Peck, Supervising Principal; Mr. Griffin, Sixth grade; Mr. Anderson, Assistant Principal.

FACULTY

THE members of the high school faculty are those noble knights and ladies who have been the constant inspiration and ever-present source of help to all the heralds, squires, and knights in all their various quests on their journey from the seventh grade through the twelfth grade.

To secure the best and latest methods of instruction, these instructors under the guidance of Mr. Peck, have devoted one whole year to group meetings to study student needs, new courses of study in each subject, and practical uses of Audio-Visual Aids.

With unflagging zeal and wholesome example, these teachers have kept the ideals of honor, truth, and justice ever foremost in the minds of their students.

First row: Mr. O'Rorke, history; Mr. Duffy, history. Second row: Miss Schumacher, dental hygiene; Mrs. Byers, home economics. Third row: Mrs. Gangi, music; Mrs. Pierce, English. Fourth row: Mrs. Baltzer, music; Miss Gressman, school nurse. Fifth row: Mrs. Dash, mathematics; Miss Collins, languages; Mrs. Greenwood, librarian; Mrs. Brenneman, mathematics and English; Mr. Luders, agriculture; Mrs. Bills, physical education; Mr. D'Antonino, science; Mrs. Hannan, English. Sixth row: Mr. Hahn, music; Mr. Hagen, physical education; Mr. Batorski, English; Mr. Nelson, health and Jr. High science; Mr. Peck, Supervising Principal; Mr. Anderson, Assistant Principal; Mr. Robb, high school math; Mr. Collard, seventh and eighth science; Mr. Lundberg, art; Mr. Foroscij, seventh and eighth Social Studies.

GUIDANCE

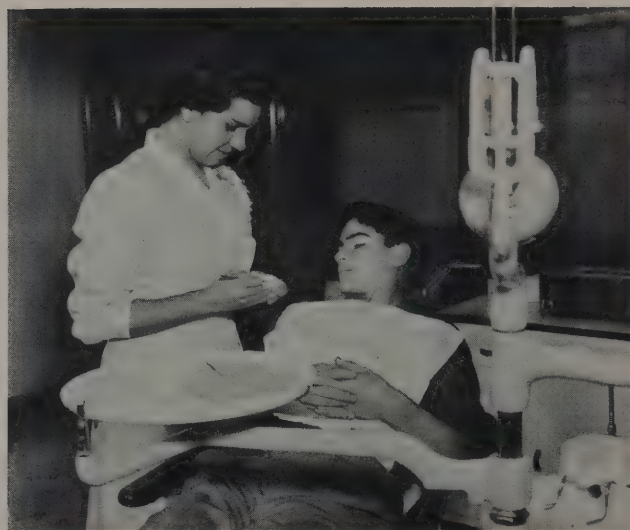

R. Vara, Mr. Jenkins

AIDED by Mr. Jenkins, our full time guidance counsellor, each student has chosen the course individually suited to him. He has helped us solve our vocational problems and has aided us in decisions regarding our further education. Under his careful planning, a group of students attended an assembly program, campus tour, and registration at the University of Buffalo.

DENTAL HYGIENE

Miss Schumacher, R. Mashke

THROUGH Miss Schumacher's efforts the necessity for proper care of teeth has been impressed upon every student's mind. During the year each student's teeth were cleaned and checked. Proper care was also explained to each one and parents were informed of any cavities. We are all grateful to Miss Schumacher for her vital services.

CLINIC

Miss Gressman, R. Agle, Dr. Krug, R. Hooper

THE aim of our school clinic is to promote good health in our school. Under the excellent supervision of Miss Gressman, our school nurse, yearly auditory tests, physical examination, and small pox and diphtheria immunization clinics are conducted to safeguard the pupils' health. Her duties also include the daily check-up on absentees.

CUSTODIANS

(absent) H. Rice, H. Kinn.

OUR janitorial staff, Harry Rice, Len Shouldice, Howard Kinn, and William Knoll have contributed boundlessly toward keeping our building neat and clean. Special thanks are owed to Mrs. Morris for being helpful and kind to us all. Thanks are also due for performing duties not included in their usual daily schedule.

CAFETERIA

Mrs. Koepka, Mrs. Shepker, Mrs. Nellis, Mrs. Miller, Miss Congilosi.

THE nutritious meals served in our school cafeteria are prepared by our school dietitian, Miss Congolosi, and her competent staff. Soups, hot main dishes, enticing salads, and delectable desserts make up the delicious and nutritious lunches we students enjoy every day. These faithful workers deserve our thanks and appreciation for their indispensable services.

BUS DRIVERS

J. Schwanz, J. Winter, R. Szalasny, E. Winkleman,
C. Benkleman, S. Wittmeyer, A. Castle, E. Wilcox.

THE bus drivers with their cheery smiles and patience have been an essential part of the bus system at Eden Central. Under the direction of Mr. Anderson, these drivers take us safely and punctually to and from school in all kinds of weather. They are always ready and willing to drive for all special occasions, such as athletic events and field trips.

DIRECTOR

TYPING

*T*HE Adult Education Classes at Eden Central School provided an opportunity for many residents of the Eden Central District to increase academic knowledge; to make good use of leisure time; to become acquainted with many neighbors and provided an outlet for hobbies, desires and feelings.

In all, thirteen classes were in session on four different evenings with a total enrollment of over two hundred persons.

Evidence of the stronghold Adult Education has in our community is the fact that this is the sixth consecutive year that it has been in operation. Mr. Leo J. Forosci is the director of the program.

History of The Class of 1952

ONE bright September morning in the year 1940, Danny Agle, Carl Bauer, Sue Braymiller, Carl Chelius, Jimmy Cole, Freddy Haier, Nelson Hickling, Jim Gier, Marian Reed, Jane Rice, Bob Schumer, and Jack Strawbrich entered Mrs. Morgester's first grade in the newly completed Eden Central School. Armed with pencils, tablets, and crayons, they were ready for the battle of readin', writin', and 'rithmetic.

We put on two plays, "Br'er Rabbit" and "Lincoln's Boyhood", in the second grade, and gained a new member, Clifford Palmeto. No one will forget the time Marian put hot water on the goldfish. Third and fourth grade memories are especially clear in our minds. Nothing was as enjoyable as our trips to the woods and Miss Boardman's noon-hour stories. Also, these years brought us five new friends--Marlene Bruns, Sam Catapano, Dick Hornung, Roger Mashke, and Joyce Papich.

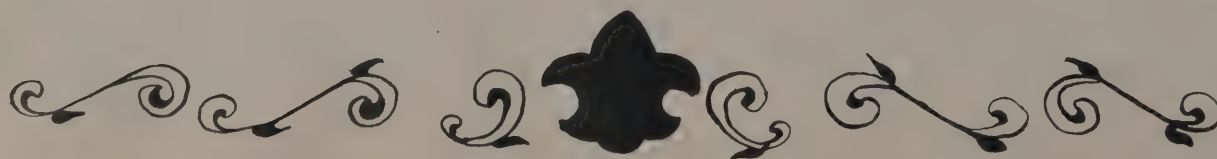

Fifth grade passed quickly, and we found we were beginning the final and most memorable year of our elementary grades. We presented an Irish play in assembly and held a picnic behind the school at the end of the year. The theme of our graduation into the Junior High was the United Nations, and Carl Bauer, Joyce Papich, and Marlene Bruns were the main speakers. Herb Bogner and Bob Sloma joined us during this year.

Seventh grade gave us an entirely different curriculum, and also four new additions to our class--Mary Ann Catalino, Jan Jakiel, Irene Krycia, and Peggie Sherman. Gerald Schmittendorf and Marlene Bruns were elected presidents of the respective homerooms. During the ninth grade, we became conscious of the importance and advantages of participating in the school government. Sam was elected president of the Junior High Student Association and helped promote the purchase of a New York State flag for the auditorium. Among our new class acquaintances were Ray Dayka, Alice Domin, George Gates, John Kozak, Charlotte May, Donna Neifer, Edgar Preischel, and John Salewski. The evidence of our readiness to enter the Senior High was indicated by our ninth grade graduation.

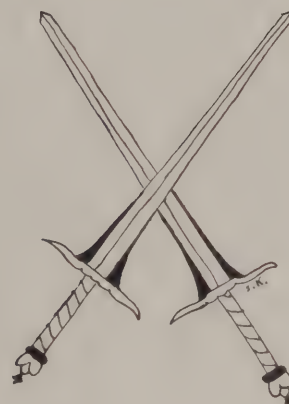

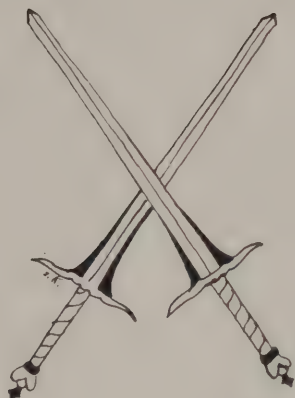

"The Pigskin Hop" was the name given to our first dance, the Sophomore Hop. It was a great success with most of the class participating. Gary Sargent and Paul and Allen Wollenberg, this year's new members, made friends thick and fast. We found our Junior year to be almost as exciting as our Senior year. Nelson Hickling was elected Junior Class President, and we received our long-desired school rings. Sue Braymiller and Gerald Schmittendorf were selected as king and queen of our festive Junior Prom, "Mardi Gras." Valerie Mott, our Editor, and Mary Munich joined our ranks late in the year.

Then came the happy, busy year in dear old 204. What a merry time we had as we sold notebooks and banners, planned our yearbook, and gave a fish dinner at the town hall. A magazine subscription campaign with Nelson Hickling as captain of the boys' team and Marlene Bruns as captain of the girls' team was also conducted to raise money to finance our yearbook and Washington trip. The arrival of Sharon Kreckel and Pat Slaughenhaupt completed the present members of our Senior Class. We shall always remember Mrs. Pierce for her capable leadership as Senior advisor as well as her cheery good morning and bulging briefcase.

After the Senior Ball, our picnic, and Regents, we shall pass through the gateway of graduation, but the haunting memory of "Eden Forever" will linger always in our hearts, as we set forth on our quest to seek the Magic Castle of Camelot.

THAT SENIOR YEAR

A senior's life is fraught with many worries
That only other seniors understand.
Perhaps that's why we oft resent the wisdom
That older persons have at their command.

The false security we felt as children
Has left us now, and here alone we stand
Against the world, at Graduation's Gateway,
An utterly bewildered little band.

At seventeen we know that Youth is eager
To read the pages of the Book of Life,
To hurry over parts that seem to bore us
To those that picture action, color, strife.

We need your patience to tone down our vigor;
We need your smile and friendship every day;
We need your faith to help us win our battles;
We need you there beside us all the way.

You need us, too, because you are the artist
While we, the plastic clay, bring you release;
Though each is incomplete without the other,
Together we might mold a masterpiece.

Forgive us then, if in our clumsy effort
To snatch some crumbs of joy ere we depart,
We, in our thoughtless eagerness and hurry,
Have wounded any kindly, loving heart.

To you: our teachers, parents, and advisors,
We make our plea to have you love us still.
Your trust, your faith, your patient understanding
Will all our lives with pleasant memories fill.

First Row: R. Mashke, M. Munich, E. Preischel, G. Sargent, H. Bogner. Second Row: S. Miller, R. Bacvar, J. Gier. Third Row: Mr. Mergler, R. Crocker, J. Vigrass, S. Sammarco. Fourth Row: D. Brockman.

SNAPSHOOTING is a fine hobby, and a memory refresher for the future. Under Mr. Mergler's competent instruction, this group of zealous camera fans studied various types of cameras and accessories, effects of shutter speed and lighting, proper development of negatives, and enlargement and printing of pictures. Good equipment and cooperation made the class a success.

STUDY HALL

Mr. Nelson, High School Students, Mrs. Greenwood.

UNDER the supervision of different teachers, study halls are conducted in the library every day. During these periods students may do their homework, study quietly together, or read books on diversified subjects selected from the extensive school library. Usually, each student has at least one study hall a day.

MATHEMATICS

First Row: R. Mashke, A. Wollenberg, J. Strawbrich. Second Row: Mr. Robb, J. Jakiel, C. Bauer, P. Wollenberg, C. Chelius.

MATHEMATICS is a science that treats of the measuring, relations, and the properties of qualities and magnitudes. "The mathematician has reached the highest rung on the ladder of human thoughts." For it is through the complexities of mathematical functions, for example, that students are taught to think logically and to reason intelligently.

LATIN

First Row: M. Hammond, D. Heinrich, P. Engelhardt.
Second Row: A. Crowe, J. Hoadley, D. GINGER.
Third Row: M. Winter, P. Crocker. Fourth Row: J.
Lavre, N. Cheney, R. Beyer. Fifth Row: E. Cheney,
H. Hickling. Standing: P. Rebman, J. Brzezicki, J.
Cotton, Miss Collins.

CAESAR and Cicero emerge as living personalities as we read their own writing in Latin. The greatness of the Roman world with its splendid cultural traditions is vividly glimpsed in the terse Latin prose of Caesar and the magnificent oratory of Cicero.

CHEMISTRY

First Row: M. Hammond, P. Engelhardt, J. Ridge,
E. Cheney, H. Hickling, J. Brzezicki, J. Cotton.
Second Row: V. Mott, P. Wollenberg, J. Jakiel, D.

Third Row: J. Strawbrich, S. Catapano, C. Chelius,
D. Agle, C. Bauer, J. LeFeyre, N. Dougherty.
Standing: Mr. D'Antonino, L. Cataldo, P. Hunter.

"DOC," where are the keys? Do we have any potassium chlorate?" These are familiar questions one often hears in the chemistry laboratory. This year, the chemistry classes have been lengthened to two periods. During the first period lectures are given, and the second period is reserved for lab experiments.

FRENCH

First Row: R. Pineau, L. Cataldo, S. Regan, V.
Mott. Second Row: D. Agle, R. Terwilliger, R.
Vara, J. Ridge. Standing: Miss Collins.

LANGUAGES today are all-important in an international picture. To understand a people, we must know that people's language. French is the "language of diplomacy," and as such is a wise choice in selecting a modern language.

BUSINESS

First Row: M. Reed, J. Rice. Second Row: S. Kreckel. Third Row: M. Catalino, D. Neifer. Fourth Row: I. Krycia, A. Domin, C. May. Standing: Mrs. Jacobson.

THE commercial world of today demands speed, accuracy, and a broad knowledge of the basic principles of business. Typing, business arithmetic, shorthand, bookkeeping, business law, transcription, and secretarial practice courses prepare students for successful business careers by giving them actual experience in classroom situations.

HISTORY

First Row: M. Shea, C. Smith, R. Terwilliger. Second Row: M. Coggins, J. Neifer, A. Pryor, B. Rothe, J. Schumer. Third Row: F. Gehl, J. Gerace, O. Moore, D. Mashke. Fourth Row: B. Zittel, D. Crocker, W. Euler, P. Faruga, H. Hurdle, J. Vigrass. Fifth Row: D. Roeller, M. Bogner, M. Brusehaber, J. Chachula, W. Towns. Standing: J. Wetzler, N. Combs, Mr. Duffy.

TODAY'S challenge to the youth of America can be met only by an understanding of the experiences and achievements of those who have preceded them. By studying American and World History, they learn to appreciate their own surroundings and to understand the problems of people in other eras and other countries.

ENGLISH

First Row: J. Strawbrich, J. Salewski, J. Haeick, J. Gier, R. Schumer. Second Row: R. Sloma, Mrs. Pierce, G. Sargent, R. Hornung, G. Schmittendorf, C. Bauer, F. Haier. Third Row: S. Braymiller, J. Cole, P. Wollenberg, C. Chelius, M. Sherman.

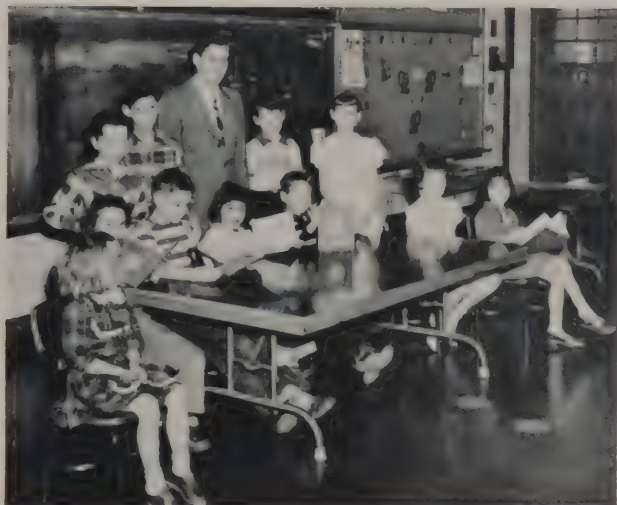

THE field of English is so broad and all-inclusive that success in this subject many times means success in other subjects where the ability to read, write, and speak correctly is essential. Students are taught to organize their thoughts and express them clearly in oral and written work. They also learn to evaluate literature and appreciate that which is worthwhile.

AGRICULTURE

First Row: R. Sloma, J. Kozak, J. Salewski, G. Sargent, R. Fox, P. Suja. Second Row: F. Haier, J. Neifer, J. Swanz, R. LaWare, R. Dayka, P. Anderson, R. Schumer, Mr. Luders.

THE object of this course is to train boys interested in agriculture to become competent, progressive farmers who can adjust their programs to changing conditions. Situated in a prosperous farming region, the students had ample opportunity to study agriculture thoroughly. Care and selection of machinery with emphasis on labor efficiency are studied in detail.

MR. SHEPHARD'S CLASS

Seated: S. Gier, M. De Carlo, P. Densberger, R. De Carlo, J. Sheflin, A. Amabile, M. Rizzio.
Standing: H. Blattenberger, J. De Benedetto, Mr. Shephard, D. De Carlo, V. Keller.

OUR class has spent an enjoyable and interesting year studying about the community, our animal friends and the seasons. We have tried to improve our knowledge of the 3 R's and all of us found much pleasure in our craft time.

HOME ECONOMICS

THE aim of our high school course in homemaking is to prepare the student for a happier, healthier and more satisfying life. Under the competent instruction of Mrs. Byers, students learn the fine arts of cooking, wardrobe planning and making, good grooming, home redecorating, and child care. They are prepared, therefore, to be housekeepers of the future.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Mrs. Bills, C. May, D. Neifer, M. Bruns, J. Haeick, S. Braymiller, M. Catalino, P. Slaughenhaupt, J. Rice, S. Kreckel, A. Domin, M. Reed, M. Munich, I. Krycia.

*T*HE Physical Education program strives to train the intelligence, develop the organic systems, and master certain fundamental skills inherent in the individual's nature.

Comprising the curriculum are such sports as soccer, archery, volleyball, basketball, and baseball plus apparatus work, matwork and calisthenics.

ART

H. Herdle, L. Lomison, G. Elles, J. McGuire, T. Spack, M. Eckhardt, P. Vara, G. Koepka, R. Bugenhagen, S. Obremski, J. Wetzler, J. Burrows, J. Gier, P. Sherman, G. Schmittendorf, L. Sobilo, D. Brockman, Mr. Lundberg.

*T*O enjoy art, one needs to develop only an awareness of his own surroundings.

In this course, students learn to develop their artistic abilities by studying fundamentals of design and representation. With this background, talented students have a foundation for any future studies they may pursue.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Left to Right: P. Suja, S. Obrinski, J. Neifer, W. Alfrets, C. Ringer, J. Wetzler, A. Eberhardt, D. Arno, G. Kopka, C. Schasel, L. Lomison, B. Strawbrich, P. Vara, R. Slaughenhaupt, D. Schumer, Mr. Mergler.

*I*NDUSTRIAL Arts helps to develop the manual ability in the use of common tools and materials which would be of service in and around the home. It presents to pupils an opportunity to work with metals, textiles, electricity, wood, ceramics, leather and other materials. The success of their workmanship will fit them to take their place in the industrial world.

JUNIORS

THE Junior Class looks back with great pride on its accomplishments of the past year. This group of conscientious workers has upheld our high scholastic and athletic rating. They excelled in interscholastic sports and were well represented in the sports band and cheerleading sections. The social highlight of the year was the glittering Junior Prom, "Starlite Serenade." The queen, Ann Crowe, surrounded by a court of charming attendants and guests, ruled graciously on her resplendent throne. With the senior goal at last in view, the Class of 1953 is ready to assume new responsibilities.

SOPHOMORES

WELL on the road of high school education is the Sophomore Class, whose members have advanced into the subjects of biology, with its plant and animal life; geometry, with its triangles and parallelograms; and English, with its verbs, nouns, and "Silas Marner." This group of active, purposeful young people have made many contributions to the social and sports life of our school. They have participated in Student Government activities and carried on vigorous campaigns for their candidates. The highlight of the year was the Sophomore Hop, "Fall Time Frolic." Its informal setting of harvest fruits, autumn leaves, cornstalks, pumpkins, gourds, and gay balloons is well remembered by all who attended.

FRESHMEN

THE Freshmen, at the beginning of their high school career, pause to acknowledge the guidance that friends, teachers, and their advisors, Mr. Batorski and Mr. Lundberg, have rendered them. Through their able and willing assistance, these students have mastered what to them seemed unsurmountable objects. Besides trying to understand the complexities of their new courses in algebra, introduction to business, and agriculture, the Freshmen actively participated in many extra-curricular activities. They were well represented in the sport, music, and social life of the school. Their first year in high school contributed many fond memories and established a basis upon which they can build a successful future.

THE members of the Eighth Grade are now well settled in the Junior High routine. They have become conscious of the necessity of education and have acquired a keener desire for participation in extra-curricular affairs. Sport and social events have been well attended by these students. Originality in composition, square root, study of rock formation, and loyalty to the ideals of American life were included in the eighth grade curriculum. In addition to mastering these topics, the eighth graders have begun to realize the importance of being physically fit mentally awake, and morally straight if they are to be the leaders of tomorrow. They believe that they are ready for the ninth grade and look forward to being referred to as Freshmen.

SEVENTH GRADE

THE seventh grade students entered the atmosphere of high school life with great ambitions and far-reaching interests. They quickly adjusted themselves to a new curriculum of studies and rules and regulations. The boys completed many individually chosen projects in shop, while the girls, in homemaking, learned to plan and prepare nourishing meals.

In Social Studies and Mathematics, they explored New York State and mastered fractions. Health class gave them an understanding of how our bodies operate and the importance of keeping them in good condition.

The seventh graders will always be able to look back with pride to their first year in Junior High.

First Row: D. Barrett, G. Nellis, R. Brennon, L. Law, R. Zulick, E. Stegmeier, R. Rubeck, C. Rothe, D. Owen, T. Lewis, R. Williams, W. Brenneman, B. Pontius, M. Smith, A. Schmitt. Second Row: C. INTEREST in the Sixth Grade was motivated by combining class work with pleasure. As a part of their Social Studies, the students made fire with flint stones, collected stoneage tools and made an ancient travois to show how goods were transported centuries ago. They also made a huge Egyptian column decorated with drawings of ancient Egyptians and a mural of cave people and prehistoric animals. During activity time, before and after school, some children made wooden projects, paper sculptures, or painted pictures. The weekly visits to the library for books were enjoyed by everyone. The sixth graders had a pleasant and profitable year.

First Row: Judith Stressing, Mansur Benson. Second Row: Richard VerHagen, Hugh Guillaume, John Bolton, Jean Pfarner, John Gearhart, Fay Davis. Third Row: Gail Merchant, Kathleen Williams, Nancy Morris, Linda Piller. Fourth Row: Edwin Peck, Clifford Rockwood, Melanie Walther, Betsy Lydle, Diane Agle, Lois Nicholson. Fifth Row: Charles Vara, Allan Bley, Roger Zittel, John Niedermeyr, Paul Weller, Katherine Vadino, Jean Hartley, Bruce Palmberg, Albert Condon, Sharon Partridge, Lionel Cabral, Cynthia Hammond, Paul Herdle. Sixth Row: Substitute, Mrs. Hickling, Lois Schacher, Nancy Hobbie.

HAVING been divided into three groups, the fifth graders ventured into the year 1951-1952 in new surroundings. The experience of having lockers has been most fascinating. One of the highlights of the year was a delightful journey to the Buffalo Historical Building. This visit was integrated with their work in Social Studies and in oral and written compositions in English classes.

First Row: R. Fisher, J. Hodgson, C. Sauberon, V. Schramm, W. Dennis. Second Row: G. Nobbs, R. Towns, D. Ellison, J. Natwora, W. Straker, C. Eckhardt. Third Row: W. Koch, D. Yager, G. Thornes, D. Hennessey, D. Nagel. Fourth Row: R. Roberts, G. Fisher, G. Patorski, W. Knoll, J. Kern, C. Gardiner, A. Gnias. Fifth Row: F. Schmidt, R. Brenon, R. Miller, B. Pew, D. Canny, C. Ellis, R. Chiavetta. Teacher, Mrs. Wilson

IN Mrs. Wilson's division of the fifth grade, the students began the study of phonics in September, and now they are beginning to determine the pronunciation of words in the dictionary, without too much help. As a science project they modeled clay animals and arranged them in cages, their zoo attracting much attention and favorable comment. After the first report cards were given out, they decided to make envelopes in which to keep the cards clean; therefore the art consultant helped them design their own monograms for the envelopes. Their recent study of New York City with its skyscraper buildings, subways, and other sights inspired them to make a mural of Manhattan, and many of them hope to make a personal visit to the largest city in the Empire State.

DURING the year, the fourth graders have increased their knowledge and understanding of the peoples of different countries and eras. Internal good will and friendship have been stressed to help the children become more tolerant toward children of other races and customs.

Seated First Row: D. Walker, B. Staby, M. Rayeur, C. Robb, J. Wysocki. Second Row: J. Schassar, B. Agle, T. Askew, E. Anderson. Third Row: H. Phatiger, R. Swartz, E. Matwijkow, J. Franz, J. Mackey. Fourth Row: C. Merlino, E. Benzin, G. Graovac, R. Koubek. Standing: Miss Wilson, P. Lutes, J. Enser, J. Zittel, B. Baird, D. Williamson, E. Schaepp, D. Mallaber. Seated Around Table: K. Tanner, L. Kier, M. Brand, R. Sheffield, L. Murray. Floor: G. Stresing, F. Gerace, C. Cole, R. Fisher, S. Cheney, K. Straker.

*I*N science, their attention was directed to observations of the sun, moon, planets, and stars. Also as a part of their science program, the fourth graders had enjoyable as well as informative trips to the woods and the Buffalo Museum of Science. Their play, "Sleeping Beauty," was recorded on a tape recorder like a radio program and played back to a thoroughly interested third grade audience.

First Row: C. Smith, J. Bradley, P. Zittel, D. Davidson, B. Guenther, B. Schiffman. Second Row: D. Gier, S. Gregory, M. Horton, G. Kelly, B. Thompson, B. Carpenter. At Table: P. Nugent, S. Weinar, D. THIRD GRADE

At Table: H. Greeley, D. Stegmeier, R. Brand, M. Merlino, B. Szmanda, L. Yager, M. Maltby, T. Fitzgerald, R. Rudney, D. Giessman, L. Nehring, D. Williams, M. Demerley, T. Engel, J. Thompson, S. Gattie, R. Zulick, J. Schmitt, I. White, O. Ramen, D. Mashke. Absent: R. Felle, C. Kaczmarek, T. Pirowski, E. Taft, A. Dickey, A. Maltby. Teacher, Miss Poniatowski.

WHEN a child becomes a third grader, he is entering a new period of development in his life. He is no longer a child; yet, he is still not mature enough to shoulder responsibility. He is in an in-between stage that is often difficult to understand. His problems are many, because he wants to do so much and his experience is so limited.

To help him understand himself, we attempt to show him that other third graders feel the same way. Once this concept is taught, it is easier for him to get along with others. He will begin to look outside his little world, see the differences in people and places, and gradually sense their influence upon him. The thinking and behavior of this child need much guidance, because he is beginning really to take his place in society.

First Row: J. Maltbie, M. Walker, J. Blawers, D. Wright, M. Nagel, C. Smith. Second Row: B. Smith, S. Bauer, G. Sullivan, M. Roberts, D. Kelly, B. Page. Third Row: J. Ver Hagen, J. Zynda, P. SECOND GRADE

Seated: J. Clark, R. Bley, Mrs. Ingalls, C. Eye, M. Papich, R. Webber, C. Lydle, R. Bryant, P. Gerace, D. Ellison. Standing: R. Goodard, D. Helfiker, J. Bertsch, D. Mattison, R. Bruce, J. Hooker, R. Hardy, E. Korkus, M. Cohoon, C. Colantino, J. De Harte, M. Eckhardt, G. Hidy, G. Ellis, R. Franz, W. Enser, M. Chandler, P. Hughes.

THE aim of the Second Grade is to build a strong foundation of the fundamentals, especially reading, and to sow the seeds of morality, democracy, and insatiable curiosity for knowledge.

During the year the Second Graders read many stories about boys and girls like themselves. In Science they studied about different animals and brought frogs, snails, toads, grasshoppers, and other animals to school. They were eager to learn about the community in which they live and the people who help to protect their homes.

MANY of them were surprised to find that their fathers are often community helpers. Learning as they did about the community will help to make them better citizens in the future.

The children also enjoyed making things to decorate their rooms and their Christmas trees. They even had a Post Office from which they mailed their valentines. A trip to the Zoo in the spring was one of the biggest events of the year.

Memories of the year that was spent with Mrs. Ingalls, Miss MacIntyre, Mrs. Wischerath and Mrs. Gallagher will never be forgotten.

First Row: S. Schassar, R. Dahmer. Second Row: S. Willett, R. Lutes, M. Potter. Third Row: L. Kiec, R. Cagwin, R. Wright. Fourth Row: C. Cabral, Z. Waite, P. Remiszewski. Fifth Row: S. Stanage, S. FIRST GRADE

Standing: H. Reeverts, R. Smith, R. Clark, K. Clawson, J. Plare, C. Spangenberg, Miss Horton, J. Rogers, D. Storrs, J. Russell, J. Conrad, B. Willis, C. Chandler. Seated: J. Shouldice, E. Miller, M. Sheflin, S. Gray, L. O'Bryant, J. Lawrence, J. Hertle, G. Segebarth.

At Christmas time the members of these classes went to Buffalo to see Santa Claus in Toyland. Much excitement came to the first graders with every holiday when there were those special parties to prepare for. The pre-primer group under the supervision of Miss Ess, studied about the Indians, did finger painting and clay work, and decorated their rooms.

Seated: N. Gier, Miss Ess, E. Padigan, J. Rockwood, A. Rivas, H. Stewart, D. Willet, P. Schreiner, J. White, R. Pew, L. Ver Hagen, W. Polonkiewicz. Standing: M. Paterson, D. Alonso, S. Wood, S. Thornton, D. Graovac, R. Muehlbauer, G. Gallman, J. Myers, C. Bryant, J. Miller, V. Mallaber, C. Miller.

FIRST GRADE

First Row: M. Mackey, S. Hancock, P. Kirst, J. Webb, L. Agle, R. Benzin, R. Guntow, J. Gould. Second Row: A. Jaworski, L. Gehl, S. Engel, C. Schroeter. Third Row: N. Bugenhagen, M. Crowe, M. Howell, L. Benson, T. Shepker, A. Gleason, Miss Wrench, M. Will, R. Minekime, G. Brendl, D. Czechowski, M. Agle, M. Schreiner.

THE boys and girls of the first grades were very active workers this year. Throughout the entire year the students learned about the home. In the fall, they studied about the farm and paid a visit to one nearby where they saw many animals and vegetables. They made a scrapbook of farm pictures and built a model farm.

First Row: J. Hardy, D. Bonafede, J. Huthsteiner, A. Foran, D. Gehl, Mrs. Morgester. Second Row: J. Howles, S. Connors, J. Aber, P. Greene, D. Pike, E. Rockwood. Third Row: K. Throckmorton, M. Barry, G. Pederson, D. Shamblen, J. Walters, K. Connors, C. Willet, B. Johnson, J. Seggio.

UNDER the capable supervision of Mrs. Davidson and Mrs. Gerrie, the Kindergartners have learned to work, play, and share with each other. They have developed muscular skills through games, blocks, and special equipment. By listening to stories and sharing books, they have acquired reading readiness. Their visits to the woods, a turkey farm, the Post Office, and other interesting places in our community, were enjoyed by all the children.

Sitting on Floor: S. Willett, D. Lardo, K. Sievers, J. Sullivan, L. Miller, S. Graovac, R. Welker. Second Row: S. Barrett, L. Schroeder, J. Bauer, K. Phatiger, T. Zulick, W. Koch, L. Batorski, P. NOT to be outdone by the Home Economics girls, these youthful caterers made applesauce and Christmas cookies. With the use of clay, paints, crayons, and scissors, they have learned to express themselves. Music was frequently enjoyed through singing, listening to music, and participating in rhythms. Dramatic plays were also given. The boys and girls have grown in responsibility by learning to take proper care of the equipment and toys they have used. Besides laying a foundation for the somewhat more formal tasks of succeeding school years, these activities have given the Kindergartners an opportunity to enjoy themselves by working and playing together.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Seated: V. Mott, S. Sammarco, M. Miller, Mr. Peck, C. May, A. Wollenberg, C. Ziegelhofer. Standing: R. Young, M. Shay, J. Brzezicki, J. Jakiel, M. Brusehaber, S. Braymiller, N. Hickling, R. LaWare, E. Cheney, F. Gehl, A. Thompson, C. Chelius, J. Ridge, D. Roeller, J. Cotton.

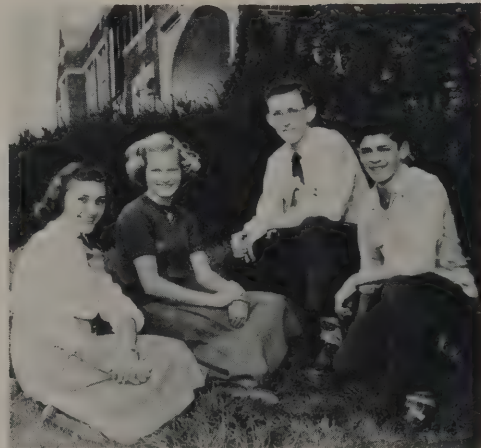

THE Senior High Student Council has functioned in its usual democratic way, being the representative body of E.C.S. Co-operating with the Junior High Student Council, it planned and conducted a Christmas and Valentine Party as well as various assembly programs. Much credit is due Mr. Peck who gave valuable advice to make it the smooth running organization it is.

MONITORS

Seated: S. Regan, A. Crowe, J. Hoadley, K. Emerick. Standing: A. Wollenberg, S. Sammarco, O. Moore, R. LaWare, P. Wollenberg.

SR. COUNCIL OFFICERS

MONITORS enforce rules and regulations set up by the Student Council. Students violating these rules are summoned to Student Court.

THE officers of the Senior Student Council have done a commendable job in leading the organization.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Seated: J. Shepker, N. Cotton, Mr. Foroscij, S. Jakiel, J. Miller, C. Thompson. Standing: R. Knoll, F. Schwartz, L. Cornell, R. Kehe, W. Bair, N. Neifer, M. Pfatiger, E. Minekime, C. Steffen, J. Miller, J. Haier, G. Nellis.

THE Junior High Student Council was organized to train the students of this age to democratic procedures and to help plan school activities. Social functions during the year were planned either in full or in part by the council members, and a school clean-up campaign was conducted. Mr. Foroscij has guided the council through all their projects.

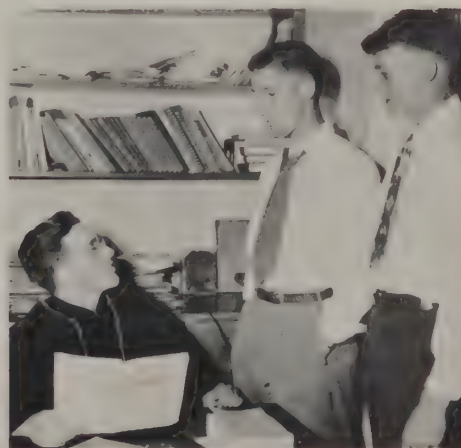

JR. COUNCIL OFFICERS

Joyce Miller, President; Mr. Foroscij, Advisor; Nancy Cotton, Vice President; Stanley Jakiel, Secretary

SIMILARLY to the election of the Senior Council officers, these able officers are elected by the grades included in the council. They have worked with their colleagues to produce a fine organization.

STUDENT COURT

Paul Wollenberg, Judge; Robert Sloma, Jack Strawbrich.

STUDENTS violating the laws of our school constitution are brought before the Student Court which provides for witnesses, a judge, a jury, and a chance to plead innocent or guilty.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

*M*R. PECK, Mrs. Peck, Members of Eta Chapter and their parents, at a punch party given in their honor after the induction ceremony.

ADVISOR

Mrs. Gertrude Pierce

*T*HE members of the National Honor Society are elected on the basis of character, scholarship, leadership, and service. Under the guidance of Mr. Peck and Mrs. Pierce, they have accomplished many worthy projects: collections for the Junior Red Cross, collections of magazines for the Veteran's Hospital, and the distribution of the monthly Junior Red Cross magazine to every grade room. The two new members from the Senior Class, to be tapped in an honor ceremony soon, are Daniel Agle and Valerie Mott.

TOWER

*A*FTER the first huddle in which the "Tower" staff put their collective heads and ideas together for that particular issue, comes the mad scramble to meet the deadline.

ADVISOR

Mrs. Viola Jacobson

*G*UIDED by Mrs. Jacobson, with Marlene Bruns and Pat Rebman as Co-Editors, the "Tower" has been a monthly picture of our school's activities. The student body eagerly awaited this periodical containing advice from our principal and timely editorials. Mary Munich's "Just Picture" column and Peggy Hammond's and Phyllis Hunter's "Who" column were widely read.

First Row: M. Bruns, P. Rebman, Editors; J. Rice, M. Reed. Second Row: T. Spack, S. Kreckle, M. Sherman, M. Munich, I. Krycia, J. Smith. Third Row: M. Catalino, D. Neifer, A. Domin, C. May. Fourth Row: B. Pawlicki, G. Anderson, E. Minekime, L. Kaczmarek, J. Greiner, E. Reinhardt, M. Hammond, J. Weiner, P. Hunter, M. Bogner, C. Ziegelhofer, J. Zulick, N. Cotton, J. Brzezicki, L. OCTET

Mrs. Baltzer, P. Hunter, V. Mott, J. Papich, A. Crowe, J. Weiner, K. Emerick, L. Cataldo, C. Thompson.

THE Octet is comprised of eight high school girls who have unusually fine voices. These girls provide entertainment in the community by singing at various clubs. During the year, they gave many commendable performances and were in special demand at our school assemblies.

THE Girls' Chorus, directed by Mrs. Baltzer, reached unprecedented size during the year. Meeting once a week, they practiced diligently for the Christmas Concert and the Spring Concert. Splendid cooperation and enthusiasm were prevalent throughout the year.

ENSEMBLE

First Row: K. Emerick, C. Carpenter, C. Renschler, M. Kern, V. Mott, C. Ziegelhofer, L. Cataldo, C. Thompson, J. Papich. Second Row: Mrs. Baltzer, director, J. Bird, B. Rothe, B. McGuire, A. Crowe, B. Nellis, N. Cheney, G. Gates, S. Sammarco, P. Hunter, A. Pryor, P. Rebman. Third Row: S. Braymiller, A. Bugenhagen, J. Weiner, M. Sullivan, D. Hedges, B. Baird, J. Cotton, M. Reed, M. Bruns, F. Mietlinski. Fourth Row: J. Shepker, E. Gould, J. Zulick, A. Wollenberg, J. Miller, J. Bauer, S. Beehler. Fifth Row: D. Agle, R. Sheffield, J. Cole, S. Kreckel, P. Sherman.

THE impossibility of taking a large chorus to participate in programs outside of school necessitated the starting of the Ensemble of 1951. Among its many commendable performances were those put on at the Veteran's Hospital in Buffalo.

COMPLETING its second year, the grade chorus has proved to be quite successful. Directed by Mrs. Gangi, this group is composed of about fifty students from the fifth and sixth grades. They are to be commended by their fine performances in the Christmas Program and the Spring Concert.

TRIPLE TRIO

A. Pryor, Mrs. Baltzer, D. Crocker, C. Ziegler, J. Weiner, M. Laine Phatiger, S. Kreckle, M. L. Kern, M. Bogner.

THIS year, under the supervision of Mrs. Baltzer, a new addition was made to our musical schedule. Many girls tried out, and the nine most promising voices were selected. The members of this group worked diligently throughout the year, and are to be commended for their splendid performances.

STRING QUARTET

Mrs. Gangi, B. Baird, E. Bugenhagen, P. Hammond, D. Sherman, J. Bird, A. Pryor, K. Emerick, D. Crocker (absent).

THE string ensemble, directed by Mrs. Gangi, consists entirely of members from the orchestra and band, who play string instruments. Many fine performances have been the result of their conscientious work.

BUS CAPTAINS

A. Bugenhagen, A. Gier, P. Kapp, M. Kuntzman, S. McMullen, M. L. Dauer, J. Cheney, J. Brzezicki, N. Nehring, P. Landahl, J. Wright, J. Silvers, T. Taby, J. Crary, W. Burke, F. Swartz.

AN important group in our school is the organization of bus captains. Twice daily they take their place at the buses to maintain order by seeing that there is no pushing or crowding. This orderliness assures greater safety for the younger children, who look upon them as their true friends.

LABORATORY ASSISTANTS

First Row: E. Cheney, Mr. D'Antonino, J. Ridge, J. Brzezicki, P. Engelhardt, J. Cotton.

THE laboratory assistants are selected from the chemistry classes by Mr. D'Antonino. Theirs is the task of filing the location of equipment, straightening up the laboratory and keeping it clean at all times. Remembering the daily appearance of the lab, we are certain they have done their job conscientiously.

LIBRARY STAFF

First Row: J. Smith, B. Merchant, E. Minekime, B. Feasley, B. Pawlicki, R. Benker, W. Bair, M. Landahl, D. Barrett, J. Gerace. Second Row: W. Burke, A. Jacobson, Mrs. Greenwood, P. Faruga. Third Row: R. Gardiner, V. Sieracki, P. Crocker, M. Haven, C. DeBoi, C. Palmeter. Fourth Row: D. Schumer, C. Doolittle, N. Nellis, L. Kaczmarek, L. Mehs, J. Burrows, L. Schultz.

UNDER the guidance of Mrs. Greenwood, our patient librarian, the library staff has kept our library in smooth running order. This club serves the purpose of helping out the librarian in the library. They check books, stamp magazines, keep the shelves in order, and perform the many other tasks that must be done in a library.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL

First Row: J. Lefever, W. Euler, G. Schmittendorf, Mr. Hagen. Second Row: Mr. Peck, Mr. Anderson, Mr. Batorski, Mrs. Bills, Mr. Nelson.

THE affairs of all sports activities in the high school are handled by the Athletic Council. Among its many duties is the encouragement of participation in sports. It also selects the cheerleaders, awards school letters to the outstanding players, and plans a sports banquet in their honor. The importance of scholarship and sportsmanship is stressed.

SENIOR BAND

W. Hahn
DIRECTOR

Mr. William Hahn

THE Band, under the talented direction of Mr. Hahn, has rounded out the year with good musical entertainment for all. It is composed of sixty-eight students from grades six to twelve. A weekly rehearsal is held on Wednesday the eighth period. Out of this concert band, a sports band of forty pieces is chosen. The function of the sports band, is to play at all home football and basketball games.

First Row: P. Wollenberg, M. Miller, R. Zulick, J. Crary, J. Messer. Second Row: S. Beechler, J. Bauer, J. Shepker, B. Baird, N. Hickling, R. Kehe, R. Roeller, B. McGuire, M. Phatiger, W. Schazzer. Third Row: R. Strawbrich, P. Vara, R. Saltzman, J. Haier, R. Zittel, L. Johns, J. Reinhart, G. Fitzgerald, J. Papich, A. Schmitt, G. Nellis, W. Brenneman, R. Peck.

SENIOR BAND

THE primary purpose of the concert band is to give the members a good background in playing good music so that they will be intelligent listeners and performers in the future. It has played at almost every assembly and presented many programs outside of school on a benefit or competitive basis. Many students from the concert band took part in the All-State Band and the All-County Band. The band is particularly proud of the order of its ranks; since it is similar to a military band in arrangement.

OFFICERS

Seated: A. Thompson, N. Hickling, president; B. McGuire. Standing: H. Hickling, R. Kehe.

OPERETTA

"WALTZ TIME", a comedy operetta presented by the music department under the direction of Mrs. Baltzer, was one of the most outstanding musical presentations of the year. The story has to do with young Kirby Stevens who has a definite talent for musical composition, but whose tastes run to melody and beauty rather than swing and syncopated noise. His ambition is to compose a great waltz song, one that will live in the hearts of its hearers. In this ambition, he is derided by all his young friends and his family, but Sue Oliver, who is in love with Kirby believes in his future and never ceases to encourage him. Kirby is so engrossed in his music, however, that he almost loses Sue to Gilmore Scott, his rival. Kirby composes the waltz song "My Sweetheart," never dreaming that unconsciously it is Sue who inspired it.

After many discouragements, Kirby finally gets a hearing for his song and almost overnight, it sweeps the country. Just as suddenly he realizes his latent love for Sue and reclaims her as she is about to wed Gilmore. The entire operetta abounded in the sparkle and freshness of vivacious youth, and will long be remembered by those who attended.

SCHOOL PLAY

THIS year, the main dramatic presentation of our school was "You Can't Take It With You." At first the Sycamores seem extravagantly mad, but it is not long before we realize that if they are mad, the rest of the world is madder. In contrast to these delightful people are the unhappy Kirbys. The plot shows how Tony, attractive young son of the Kirbys falls in love with Alice Sycamore and brings his parents to dine at the Sycamore home, on the wrong evening. The shock sustained by the Kirbys, who are invited to eat cheap delicatessen food, shows Alice that marriage with Tony is out of the question. The Sycamores, however, though sympathetic to Alice, find it hard to realize her point of view.

A. Crowe, L. Cataldo, M. Kern, S. Regan, R. Pineau.

Seated: First Row: J. Brzezicki, E. Cheney, A. Wollenberg. Second Row: M. Hammond, J. Rice, P. Wollenberg, N. Hickling. Third Row: C. May, M. Bruns, C. Bauer, D. Agle, J. Papich, M. Reed, M. Munich, M. Catilino. Standing: A. Crowe, S. Kreckel, M. Sherman, C. Palmeter, J. Jakiel, R. Schumer, J. Winter, C. Chelius, S. Catapano.

No mention has as yet been made of the strange activities of certain members of the household engaged in the manufacture of fire-works; nor of the printing-press set up in the parlor; nor of Rheba the maid and her friend Donald; nor of Grandpa's interview with the income-tax collector when he tells him he doesn't believe in the income tax.

The three act comedy, laid in the unconventional atmosphere of an American home, was held in brisk tempo by the cast who kept every minute packed with hilarious comedy. Miss Collins, the director, gave the necessary help to produce the ultimate product which was a really fine performance.

4-H

First Row: A. Luna, D. Cannay, F. Schmidt, R. Chiavetta. Second Row: J. Kern, R. Schmidt, N. Barnes, D. Roberts. Third Row: A. Shaw, C. Chiavetta, D. Smith, R. Schmidt, R. Gier, Mr. Luders.

“TO make the best better” is the motto of the 4-H. This club is comprised of boys interested in farming. They elect their own officers, practice parliamentary procedure, and decide on their yearly program. Each boy’s goal is to exhibit a project at the Erie County Fair, in the hope of winning a blue ribbon. Cattle, poultry, and vegetable judging is practiced regularly.

F. H. A.

First Row: M. Cabiolka, J. Hauck, R. Haier, C. Noviak, R. Turton, J. Szmanda. Second Row: Mrs. Byers, T. Spack, S. Miller, P. Rebman, M. Winter, E. Dole, P. Faruga. Third Row: L. Mehs, J. Anger, M. Kuntzman, A. Bugenhagen, S. McMullen, M. Schwanz, J. Burrows.

“SERVICE to the community and school” is the motto of the F. H. A. Under Mrs. Byers’ guidance, the Eden Branch of the Future Homemakers of America undertook and completed many successful projects. Christmas baskets were distributed to the needy and a party was given to welcome all new students. Funds for these projects were raised by selling Christmas cards.

F. F. A.

First Row: P. Polus, D. Pepper, P. Suja, Ann Bugenhagen, A. Gier, Arthur Bugenhagen, R. Gardiner. Second Row: R. Crowe, P. Kapp, R. Krycia, J. Neifer, J. Clees, R. LaWare, L. Dayka. Third Row: V. DeMaria, R. Gallman, P. Anderson, J. Kobiolka, F. Haier, Mr. Luders, R. Dayka, D. Schumer, L. Borowski, J. Kelly, L. Gospordowski, A. Kuczka, J. Wroblewski, J. Kamski.

“LEARNING to do, doing to learn, earning to live, living to serve” is the motto of the Future Farmers of America. Club members engage in numerous activities as a part of their community service program and aid to the less fortunate. Among these are soil and milk testing and contributions for the needy. Other activities include a speaking contest, judging, and demonstrations.

INFORMATION

First Row: M. Haven, J. Shepker, R. Batorski, J. Miller, N. Neifer. Second Row: C. DeBois, L. Gilbert, E. Krug, D. Gould, W. Heister, N. Cotton, C. Ramon, C. Thompson, E. Gould, D. Gallman.

SPONSORED by the Junior High Student Council, this new organization has proved most helpful to people visiting our school. Junior High Students having free periods are selected to sit in the main lobby, greet people coming into the building, and take them where they want to go. They also help lower grade students around the building and act as guides at different school meetings.

SAFETY PATROL

First Row: D. Anderson, M. Smith. Second Row: R. Knoll, R. Salzman, J. Messer. Third Row: B. Gier, R. Gier, R. Page, Mr. Nelson.

THE Safety Patrol, sponsored by the Automobile Association and headed by James Messer, is to be commended for its outstanding activities. Members of the patrol are assigned to sections of town in which students are crossing the road or gathering in groups to board buses. Besides assisting grade children in crossing the road, they put signs in front of the school to caution drivers.

STAGE CREW

J. Gier, C. Chelius, R. Maske, D. Brockman, Mr. Mergler, O. Moore.

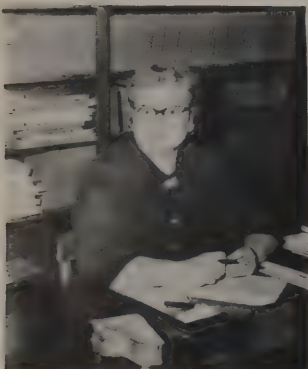

THE stage crew has the task of seeing that all stage properties are ready at the right time in all of our school's theatrical productions. Lighting and sound effects are regulated to fit into the plot of the play. Mr. Mergler and his assistants spend much time taking care of these necessities and always do a commendable job whenever called upon.

JUNIOR - SENIOR CHORUS

DIRECTOR

Mrs. Doris Baltzer

Best music

"Mrs."

Conducting

AMONG the musical organizations at Eden Central School of which we are very proud, are the mixed and junior choruses. These groups, under the capable direction of Mrs. Baltzer and Mrs. Gangi, train young voices to appreciate good music by blending together in harmony. During the year, strains of music floated through the halls as our choruses practiced a varied program of musical numbers. Highlights of the year were the Christmas Concert and the Spring Concert. All who heard the choruses have unanimously agreed that they well earned their reputation of successful singers.

DIRECTOR

Mrs. Gertrude Gangi

Submitted by Gangi
 THE Junior Band serves the purpose of giving beginning and elementary students their first experience in large ensemble playing. Composed of fifty members from the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades, this spirited group, directed by Mr. Hahn, played in the Spring Concert and has provided music at the beginning and end of many elementary assemblies. The members of this band are looking forward to the day when they will step into their places in the Senior Band. The Junior Orchestra, consisting of about fifteen members from grades five to eight is under the able direction of Mrs. Gangi. Meeting once a week, this newly organized group played admirably for the Spring Concert and the Senior graduation.

FOOTBALL and the fall of the year are synonymous. After many hours of pre-season practice and training under the capable leadership of Coach Batorski, a championships - caliber team, which did a fine job in representing our school, was developed. The Maroon Raiders was composed of many fine players, stars in their own right, and played as a well-balanced unit. The hard, clean play and fast aggressive spirit of the squad, as they performed throughout the season, will long be remembered.

*T*HE J. V. 's enjoyed a very successful season under the excellent coaching of Mr. Hagen. We can be sure that many of the future varsity stars will come from this group. Our track team proved themselves true competitors and good sportsmen throughout the season. Whether winning the relay or mile, throwing the disc, or shot put, or jumping the high or pole vault, they always did their best.

UNDER, the captaincy of Jack Strawbrich, this year's basketball team posted the usual good record. Although our team was defeated a few times, they never let down in spirit and were known for their gentlemanly conduct on the floor. We're sure Coach Ball was pleased with his team's achievements, and we are all looking forward to just as good a season next year.

J V BASKETBALL - TWIRLERS

First Row: R. Smith, J. Dempsey, R. Young, B. Gorman, P. Vera, H. Hurtle, C. Morgan, D. Heinrich. Second Row: W. Euler, R. Strawbrich, C. Smith, B. Towns, E. Cheney, M. Shea, J. Wall, Coach; J. Batorski.

*T*HE J. V. team under the watchful eyes of Coach Batorski enjoyed a very successful season. They are truly a credit to the school and a good investment for future varsity teams. At each of the home basketball games, the Twirlers thrilled the spectators by performing their routines. They devoted many hours to rigid practice and have acquired a prestige of their own.

First Row: J. Papich, Majorette. Second Row: P. Hunter, J. Weiner. Third Row: B. Nellis, F. Mietlinski. Fourth Row: B. McGuire.

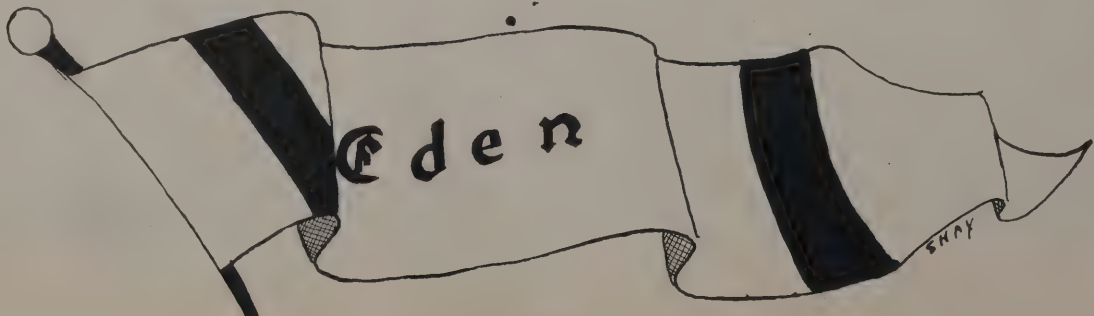

BASEBALL

THE Grand Old American Game was more popular than ever this year. Spring weather brought an enthusiastic response to the call for baseball players. With last year's team as a nucleus and some additional recruits, Coach Batorski selected a promising team. The baseball team showed strong hitting power, besides some improved fielding ability under the capable coaching of Mr. Batorski. They were undefeated in league games and won the Southern Erie County Class A. Championship. Enthusiasm, cooperation, and good sportsmanship were the keynotes in making this a successful season. It may be safely said that America's favorite game is also one of Eden's favorite games.

CHEERLEADERS

THE Varsity and Junior Varsity Cheerleaders proved themselves leaders in stimulating school spirit among the spectators and encouragement for the players. The Junior Cheerleaders consisting of one freshman and four sophomores supported the Junior Varsity. Five Varsity Cheerleaders composed of three juniors and two seniors, under the leadership of Sue Braymiller and Jane Rice as co-captains, perfected many new cheers to enliven the cheering section. They regularly attended every game, and what a pretty picture they made in their maroon and white uniforms. The cheerleaders greatly appreciated the cooperation of the student body with their efforts.

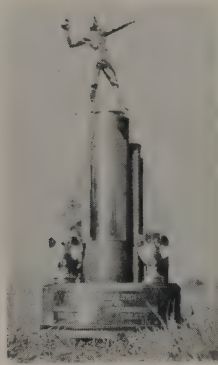

First Row: B. Rothe, Co-Captain. Second Row: M. Miller, Co-Captain; F. Gehl, D. Looze. Third Row: M. Phatiger.
